We Are the Same Despite Our Differences

Erasmus+ Project by Primary School 19, Gdańsk 2025/26

Made with GAMMA

Introduction

Our project celebrates diversity and teaches acceptance and kindness. We explore how, despite our differences, we share common hopes and dreams.

Through engaging activities and meaningful conversations, we discover that what unites us is far stronger than what divides us. Every child in our school brings something special to our community.

Understanding Differences

We learn about different cultures, languages, and traditions to appreciate what makes each of us unique.

Cultural Heritage

Exploring the rich traditions, festivals, and customs that shape our identities and bring colour to our school community.

Languages We Speak

Celebrating the beautiful variety of languages spoken by our pupils and learning simple greetings from around the world.

Family Traditions

Sharing special family customs, foods, and celebrations that make each household unique and wonderful.

Recognising Similarities

We all want friends, respect, and to feel safe. These shared needs connect us beyond our differences.

Friendship

Every child wants to belong, to laugh together, and to have someone who understands them.

Respect

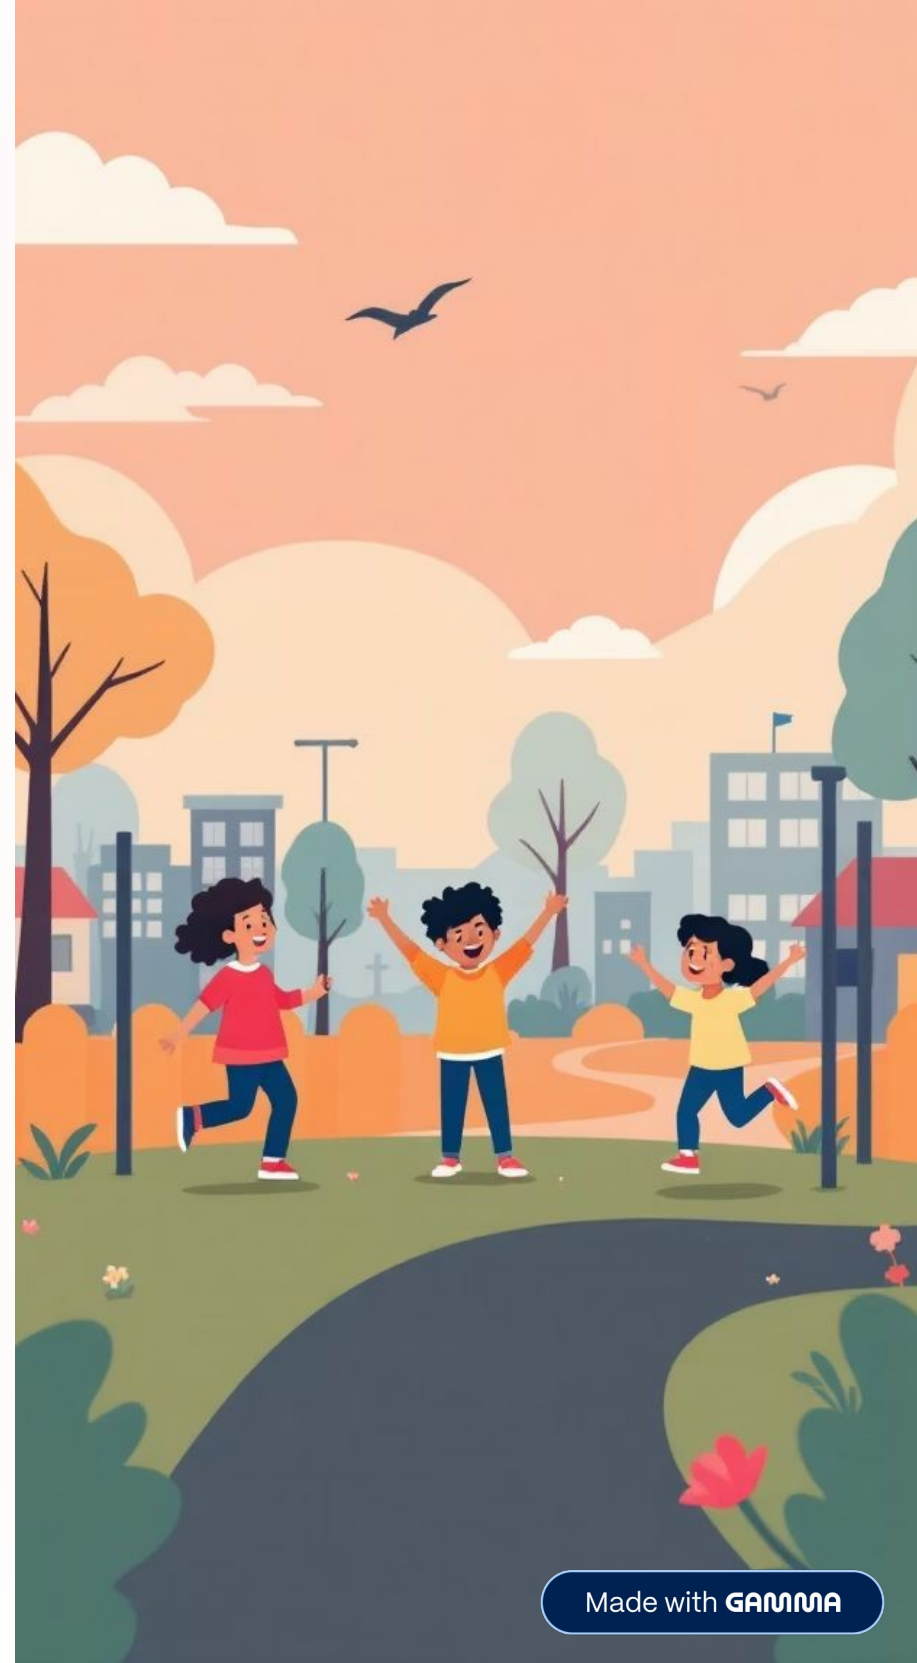

We all deserve to be treated with kindness and to have our feelings and opinions valued.

Safety

Everyone needs to feel secure and protected in their learning environment.

Dreams

We all have hopes for our future and aspirations that drive us forward.

Fighting Bullying Together

Bullying often happens because of differences. We stand together to stop bullying and build a supportive school environment.

Stand Up

When we see bullying, we speak out and support our classmates with courage and compassion.

Speak Out

We tell trusted adults when someone is being hurt and never stay silent about bullying.

Support Each Other

We create a network of friendship where everyone feels valued and protected.

An illustration of a drama classroom. In the foreground, two girls are sitting on small wooden stools, facing away from the viewer. They are wearing red and orange sweaters. In the center, a boy is standing, holding a blue book and looking towards the girls. He is wearing an orange t-shirt and dark shorts. To his right, another child's arm is visible, reaching up. The background features large, arched windows with orange curtains. The floor is a light orange color with some darker orange shapes. The overall style is colorful and cartoonish.

Using Drama to Learn Acceptance

Drama activities help us understand others' feelings and practice kindness in a fun, creative way.

01

Role Playing

We step into different characters' shoes to experience various perspectives and emotions.

02

Emotional Expression

Through acting, we learn to recognise and express feelings in healthy, constructive ways.

03

Problem Solving

We explore different solutions to conflicts and practice responding with empathy and understanding.

04

Building Confidence

Drama activities help shy pupils find their voice and build self-esteem in a supportive environment.

Our Anti-Bullying Play

"We Are All Friends"

We created a short play called "We Are All Friends" to show how friendship and respect can overcome bullying.

Our talented pupils wrote the script together, designed simple costumes, and rehearsed with enthusiasm. The play demonstrates real situations that happen in schools and shows positive ways to respond.

Through this creative project, we learned that theatre can be a powerful tool for social change and building empathy.

Excerpt from Our Play

Scene: Ben teases Mia about her accent, but Emma and Lucas stand up for her, showing kindness and friendship.

Ben

"Why do you talk so funny, Mia? You sound weird!"

Emma

"That's not kind, Ben. Mia speaks beautifully in two languages. That's amazing!"

Lucas

"Yeah! I wish I could speak another language like Mia. Will you teach us some words?"

Mia

"Thank you for being kind. I'd love to share my language with you!"

What We Learned

Empathy is Key to Acceptance

When we try to understand how others feel, we naturally become more accepting and kind. Putting ourselves in someone else's position helps us respond with compassion rather than judgment.

Everyone Deserves Respect

No matter where we come from, what language we speak, or how we look, every person has value and deserves to be treated with dignity and kindness.

We All Can Be Friends

Friendship transcends language barriers and cultural differences. When we approach others with open hearts and curious minds, beautiful friendships can bloom.

We are the same despite our differences

Kindness and respect make our school a better place for everyone.

Choose Kindness

Every day, we have the power to make someone's day brighter through small acts of kindness.

Show Respect

Treating others with respect creates a positive environment where everyone can thrive and learn.

Build Community

Together, we create a school community where differences are celebrated and everyone belongs.
